GAYLE HOLLOMAN

Lately, we've shared information and updates about the Library's Strategic Plan process and upcoming signature programs. By now, you also know that we are engaged in an early mission to get more library card holders, and people to renew their cards. September is Library Card Sign Up Month. Let's kickstart it today. Talk it up. We know that a library card opens a world of opportunity.

Additionally, opportunities are forged by embracing literacy. Statistics show that since COVID-19 there has been a decline in literacy. Studies continue to be done about children who do not read on grade level; and adults who walk around, functionally illiterate.

The ability to read well suffers from all its complexities such as comprehension; language barriers; and reading and learning disabilities. The Library System assists by offering online resources, resume-writing classes, GED subject classes and testing, as well as ESL classes.

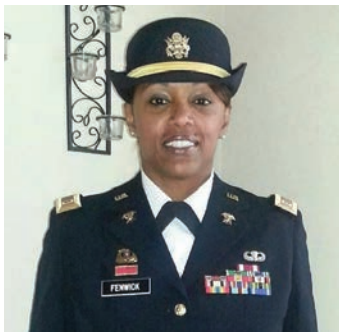

The Library System will again partner with the Georgia Public Library Service on the 1,000 Books Before Kindergarten initiative. Primetime Family Reading was a returning project that allowed families ways to get children interested in reading and meeting the challenges of becoming not just readers, but learners.

In addition to all the work we are doing to address youth literacy, we remain focused on literacy for all ages. Our nearly 20 book clubs across Fulton County are currently reading and discussing the 2023 One Book, One Read selection, The Personal Librarian.

Please read through this issue to get information on our upcoming visiting authors, Eric Litwin, Nic Stone, Marie Benedict, Victoria Christopher Murray, Kwame Alexander, and Katherine Center.

The library staff will continue to seek partnership opportunities to address literacy needs. It is a lofty goal; but one that must be pursued. Without question it is needed, and the moment must be met.

MEET SOCIAL SERVICES PROGRAM MANAGER JOVITA FENWICK

What are your goals for working with library staff and patrons, not only at our Central Library, but at all our libraries across the County?

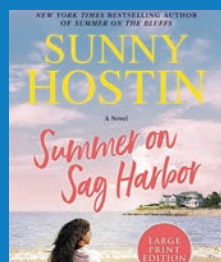

I hope to increase the community's and the staff's awareness of social services, its impact on everyone; patrons and staff, and highlighting how everyone plays a part in it. At some point, we will all need social services whether it is for our aging parents, our children at school, with a family member who may be suffering from a mental health diagnosis or a substance abuse disorder, or for ourselves in learning how to implement effective boundaries and overcoming our own stress and anxiety. Read the full interview online at fulcolibrary.org or by scanning the QR code.

GETTING TO KNOW
JOSEPH PIONTEK
BOARD OF TRUSTEES

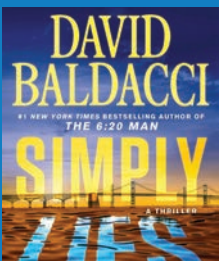

I was originally appointed to the Board of Trustees in June of 2017 by Fulton County Commissioner Liz Hausmann and then reappointed by Commissioner Bridget Thorne last year. So, it's been 6 years! I saw an opportunity to guide the development of robust learning centers and technology hubs throughout the system to support our children and young adults on their educational journeys.

I believe libraries play a crucial role in promoting early literacy and fostering a love for reading in children. Libraries equip children with essential skills and set them on a path of success in education and beyond.

I love being an advocate for the Library in my community -- promoting its value to individuals and families. We build relationships with policy leaders and grassroots supporters to amplify the message that the Library is a vital part of the community.

My favorite benefit of the library is the Digital Library and its free access to e-books, audiobooks, learning tools, and so much more!

Jiyu, Ocee

As we approach a new school year and the end of another successful Summer Reading Program, Fulton County Libraries are preparing to celebrate Library Card Sign Up Month. The annual effort to get a library card in the hand of every child as they begin the school year, started in 1987 as a response to then Secretary of Education William Bennett, who stated, "Let's have a campaign ... Every child should obtain a library card and use it!"

FulconLibrary is taking that charge to a new level in 2023! Fulton County's Library Card Sign Up Month will begin in August this year ahead of the first day of school for students across Fulton County.

This year, libraries across the nation are celebrating Library Card Sign Up Month with a little help from some animated friends, the characters Ember and Wade from the new animated film, Elemental.

Get in Your Element! — sign up for a library card! From borrowing books, ebooks, and museum passes to getting homework help, a library card helps you do more of what you enjoy. Get a library card and dive into a new hobby. Use your library card to tinker in a maker space and spark your creativity. A library card is your most important school supply—it's elemental, really—and everyone should have one!

ONE BOOK ONE READ

A conversation with Victoria Christopher
Murray and Marie Benedict
on The Personal Librarian.

The Fulton County Library System is thrilled to, once again, begin the 2023 county-wide book club, One Book, One Read with The Personal Librarian by Victoria Christopher Murray and Marie Benedict. The goal of the One Book, One Read program is to get as many people across Fulton County reading, talking about, and engaging with the same book, as well as, promoting conversations, community building, and literacy all while having fun with your friends, family, and neighbors.

The Personal Librarian is the remarkable, little-known story of Belle da Costa Greene, the personal librarian to J. P. Morgan and the curator of The Morgan Library who was secretly passing as a white woman.

The Library System, with support from the Atlanta-Fulton Public Library Foundation will host a special visit with the authors on Saturday, September 30 at 6 pm at the Central Library. The program will include special guest host and moderator, Alyse Eady, Emmy award-winning anchor at FOX 5 Atlanta. The authors will discuss the book, answer audience questions and take part in a book signing, immediately following the talk. Books will be available for purchase through A Capella Books during the event. More information is available at fulcolibrary.org/OBOR.

STAFF & VOLUNTEERS

MAKE A DIFFERENCE!

Library resources are not just online or in the books, they are in the people you meet in the building. Our library volunteers provide their unique skills and experiences across the Library System.

Storytime volunteer and local author Andrea Carter shared, "I'm grateful for the volunteer opportunities to share my gift and to support libraries."

Volunteers work closely with library staff to return items to the shelves and reach more patrons. Sandy Springs volunteer Linda Estroff stated, "All of the employees work so hard, so it is great to volunteer and introduce children to books at an early age, and hopefully, foster a love of reading for a lifetime."

Patrons donate new and gently read books to Friends groups across the system to help fund programming not led by staff or volunteers. Roswell Friends volunteer Katy King said, "I'm very thankful we get such wonderful donations and the Roswell Friend volunteers take the time to work at the store and book sales which provides us with the funds to be so generous."

Volunteers get to know each other, the staff and the community. East Point program volunteer Rachelle Washington stated, "It has been an absolute honor to serve the community and to support libraries especially at major inflection points in our country. Library staff are supportive to dynamic programming that reaches across generational and socioeconomic spectrums."

Join our waitlist for shelving volunteer positions or contact us if you have an expertise to present free programs. Apply to volunteer at <https://www.fulcolibrary.org/volunteer-at-fulcolibrary/>.
