STAFF DEVELOPMENT DAY
CONGRATS
 to our 2023 Spirit Award Winners

FulcoLibrary and the Atlanta-Fulton Public Library Foundation recognizes the efforts of stellar employees every year during our Annual Staff Development Day. Congrats to these 2023 award winners and special thanks to Kenneth Hermon, Fulton HR Director, for his support during the awards presentation. To learn more about the recent FulcoLibrary Staff Development Day, visit page 6.

DIRECTOR'S NOTE

Gayle H. Holloman

Soon, the days will seem even shorter with the end of daylight saving time on November 5th. When that happens, we can look toward the months of great holidays, the vestiges of fall, and sports lovers will fill their days with football and basketball.

This is a favorite time of year for many of us, as we look forward to spending more time with family and friends, especially during the November and December holidays. Cooking and decorating, travel, and leisure will be on our minds.

January 2024 may be ushered in with lots of weather changes which means you may want to be ready for it with stacks of books to read as you sit by the fire. Don't forget the online resources which include e-audiobooks, music, and movies. There are bestsellers available, information on upcoming author visits, and many programs for all ages that you may want to attend.

The new year will have enhanced programming. The signature programs, One Book, One Read and the Children's Book Festival will return. There will also be a few surprises along the way.

The local library is a great place to list on your calendar as a reminder to make a visit. Go and spend some time in the library. You might make, or recall, a good memory.

GETTING TO KNOW

ERIN DREILING

FOUNDATION EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

What moved you to get involved with the Atlanta Fulton Public Library Foundation?

I am personally passionate about libraries. As a child, my family went to the library every Sunday and it fostered a lifelong passion for reading and storytelling in me.

Did you know that the Fulton County Library System is the largest library system in Georgia and it serves over a million residents in the City of Atlanta and Fulton County? That is incredible. Libraries play a key role in Atlanta's cultural, educational, and economic fabric and provide essential resources that empower all of us.

When people want to read a great book, research a topic, find a better job or learn about something new, the library is there for them. The Atlanta-Fulton Public Library Foundation works in partnership with the Library System to support this indispensable community resource through advocacy, fundraising and public awareness. So much good happens at our libraries and I wanted to be a part of that.

“FALL-ING” FOR FULCOLIBRARY

A LOOK BACK AT THE SEASON

1. Authors, Victoria Christopher Murray (Left) and Marie Benedict (Right) greet readers of The Personal Librarian.
2. Alyse Eady (Left) and the authors of The Personal Librarian, Murray and Benedict, discuss the novel.
3. The authors of The Personal Librarian, engage with Library Leadership and program host, Alyse Eady.
4. Murray and Benedict sign personal copies of The Personal Librarian.

ONE BOOK, ONE READ

One Book, One Read is a county-wide book club with the aim of getting as many people across Fulton County reading, talking about, and engaging with the same book. The goal is to promote conversations, community building, and literacy all while having fun with your friends, family, and neighbors. The 2nd Annual One Book, One Read program officially kicked off on June 1st with The Personal Librarian by Victoria Christopher Murray and Marie Benedict. It's the remarkable, little-known story of Belle da Costa Greene, the personal librarian to J. P. Morgan and the curator of The Morgan Library who was secretly passing as a white woman. The program culminated in a special visit with the authors, which took place on Saturday, September 30th at the Central Library in downtown Atlanta. Both authors, along with moderator and Fox 5 Atlanta Anchor Alyse Eady were on hand to discuss the book, answer audience questions and take part in a book signing following the talk.

STAFF DEVELOPMENT DAY

FulcoLibrary staff recently gathered for their annual Staff Development Day at the Central Library. Over 250 employees attended nearly 50 sessions throughout the day, learning about important subjects to the library like, youth and adult programming, outreach, marketing, new titles, social services, technical services and more. Staff were also treated to a special keynote address from Las Vegas-Clark County Library Executive Director, Kelvin Watson, who shared best practices from one of the largest library systems in the country.

The Children's Book Festival is a two-day event featuring author talks with two dynamic authors for elementary, middle, and high-school-aged children. Eric Litwin, original author of the Pete the Cat series, and Nic Stone, author of Chaos Theory, Dear Martin, Dear Justyce, Jackpot, and more for our middle and high school-aged students visited the Central Library in October to celebrate this annual event, talk about their books and engage with children from kindergarten through high school. Each child left the program with a free signed copy of the author's book. This special program, now completing its second year brings together young people, books, and their favorite authors to continue fostering a love of reading.

NATIVE AMERICAN HERITAGE MONTH

CHECK OUT THESE READS

November is Native American Heritage Month, so there is no better time to highlight these enlightening books written by indigenous authors for readers of all ages. Reading provides many benefits, such as promoting language comprehension and literacy, and offering a time for families to bond. Children thrive when they see themselves and their culture reflected in the books they read.

This Indian Kid by Eddie Chuculate

Award-winning author Eddie Chuculate brings his childhood to life with spare, unflinching prose in a book that is at once a love letter to his Native American roots.

We Had a Little Real Estate Problem by Kliph Nesteroff

An acclaimed comedy historian explores how Native Americans have influenced and advanced the entertainment industry, tracing the achievements of performers ranging from Will Rogers and Adrienne Chalepah to Hill and the 1490s.

Redbone: The True Story of a Native American Band

Christian Staebler

Presents the history of the Native American rock band Redbone, who rose to fame while maintaining their cultural identity, and took a stand as the American Indian Movement in the 1970s gained momentum.

Seed to Plate Soil to Sky

Lois Ellen Frank

This mouthwatering—and eye-opening—celebration of Indigenous foods and Southwestern flavors presents more than 100 plant-based recipes to transform your cooking.

Never Whistle at Night

Edited by Shane Hawk

Celebrating Indigenous peoples' survival and imagination, these twenty-seven spine-tingling stories introduce readers to ghosts, curses, hauntings, monstrous creatures, and unsettling acts of revenge.

A Snake Falls to Earth

Darcie Little Badger

Fifteen-year-olds Nina and Oli come from different worlds—she is a Lipan Apache living in Texas and he is a cottonmouth from the Reflecting World—but their lives intersect when Oli journeys to Earth to find a cure for his ailing friend and they end up helping each other save their families.

LOVETT LIONS

LEARN HOW LIBRARY COMMUNITIES THRIVE

VOLUNTEER SERVICES

For almost thirty years a team of The Lovett School teachers and staff have taken high school freshmen into the community to learn about resources, needs and ways to make an impact. Service Initiation for Ninth Graders, otherwise known as SING, is two days of exploration, connection and learning through doing. This fall 15 groups in buses came to 15 libraries to meet people, visit neighborhoods and volunteer with the guiding question, 'What does it mean for a community to thrive?'

Lovett's Director of Civic and Global Engagement Fran Turner shared, "Libraries are a great fit for this project because they are such a key resource to the neighborhoods they serve. I'm excited that Lovett students saw the tremendous impact libraries have and that it's so much more than just lending out books."

Groups met with library staff, received a tour and taught a 'Tech and Tea' program with patrons wanting to learn more about technology, including downloading and using Hoopla and Libby. Students also made short videos about library resources, using self-check machines, reserving study rooms and about their favorite book, so teens can reach teens during Teentober. Lovett's Head of School Meredyth Cole even participated in a video getting her library card at the Wolf Creek Library. Students were then heading to another service site, such as afterschool tutoring, bike repair and meal preparation.

Teen Advisory Boards are running or starting at several locations, so introduce yourself to the Branch Manager and Youth Services Librarian at your location to find out more.

Lovett School students brought 'Tech and Tea' lessons to seniors at 15 area libraries.

SOCIAL SERVICES RESOURCES

ASK A SOCIAL WORKER

Ask the Social Worker is an initiative that will be launched beginning in a few of the libraries in November 2023. It will be conducted by one of the social workers on the team that will provide walk-in services for community members. Clients can walk in and meet with a social worker and receive one-on-one services to assist with a job search, referrals for housing, obtaining documentation, SNAP application assistance, computer assistance and so much more.

This direct service can help to alleviate the stress of the clients from feelings of being overwhelmed and not sure where to start and it can also provide relief for the library staff by being able to refer the patron/client over to the social worker. The plan is to implement it in a few branches, see how well it does, and then possibly extend the service to other branches.

While there is no magic formula to erase every disruptive behavior you might encounter in the public library, you may now have a direct referral in your branch to help navigate what people may bring to your branch. The work ahead of us is only beginning and perhaps your understanding of social services will expand as well as you also meet with us to gain a better understanding and awareness of the program and what social services in the library has to offer. We hope you gain a belief that people can heal, and that the library is a place where healing can begin.

OUR SECRET SOCIETY:
Mollie Moon and the Glamour, Money, and Power Behind the Civil Rights Movement
by Tanisha C. Ford
Author Discussion and Book Signing

The Auburn Avenue Research Library in collaboration with Charis Books and More will host Tanisha C. Ford who will discuss her latest book Our Secret Society: Mollie Moon and the Glamour, Money, and Power Behind the Civil Rights Movement.

Our Secret Society brilliantly illuminates a little known yet highly significant aspect of the civil rights movement that has been long overlooked—the powerhouse fundraising effort that supported the movement—the luncheons, galas, cabarets, and traveling exhibitions attended by middle-class and working-class Black families, the Negro press, and titans of industry, including Winthrop Rockefeller.

Historian and cultural critic Tanisha C. Ford brings Mollie Moon into focus as never before, charting her rise from Jim Crow Mississippi to doyenne of Manhattan and Harlem, where she became one of the most influential philanthropists of her time—a woman feared, resented, yet widely respected. She chronicles Mollie's larger-than-life antics through exhaustive research, never-before-revealed letters, and dozens of interviews.

with TS Madison*
Author Discussion and Book Signing

The Auburn Avenue Research Library in collaboration with Charis Books and More will host Raquel Willis in conversation with TS Madison to discuss her latest book. The Risk It Takes to Bloom: On Life and Liberation.

In The Risk It Takes to Bloom, Raquel Willis recounts with passion and candor her experiences straddling the Obama and Trump eras, the possibility of transformation after tragedy, and how complex moments can push us all to take necessary risks and bloom toward collective liberation.

Raquel Willis is an award-winning activist, author, and media strategist dedicated to Black transgender liberation. She has held groundbreaking posts, including director of communications for Ms. Foundation for Women, executive editor of Out magazine, and national organizer for Transgender Law Center.
